MARVELLOUS REMEDY
For a Marvellous Age!!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT!!

The Grand External Remedy.

By the aid of a microscope we see millions of openings on the surface of our bodies. Through these this Ointment, when rubbed on the skin, is carried to any organ or inward part. Disorders of the Kidneys, Disorders of the Liver, affections of the Heart, inflammation of the Lungs, Asthmas, Coughs and Colds, are by its means effectually cured. Every housewife knows that salt passes through bone or meat of any thickness. This healing Ointment far more readily penetrates through any bone or fleshy part of the living body, curing the most dangerous inward complaints, that cannot be reached by other means.

Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, and Scorbutic Humors.

No remedy has ever done so much for the cure of diseases of the Skin, whatever form they may assume, as this Ointment. No case of Salt Rheum, Scurvy, Sore Heads, Scrofula, or Erysipelas, can long withstand its influence. The inventor has travelled over many parts of the globe, visiting the principal hospitals, dispensing this Ointment, giving advice as to its application, and has thus been the means of restoring countless numbers to health.

Sore Legs, Sore Breasts, Wounds and Ulcers.

Some of the most scientific surgeons now rely solely on the use of this wonderful Ointment, when having to cope with the worst cases of sores, wounds, ulcers, glandular swellings, and tumors. Professor Holloway has, by command of the Allied Governments, despatched to the hospitals of the East, large shipments of this Ointment, to be used under the direction of the Medical Staff, in the worst cases of wounds. It will cure any ulcer, glandular swelling, stiffness or contraction of the joints, even of 20 years' standing.

Piles and Fistulas.

These and other similar distressing complaints can be effectually cured if the Ointment be well rubbed in over the parts affected, and by otherwise following the printed directions around each pot.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bad Legs, Piles, Sprains, Rheumatism, Scalds, Salt Rheum, Swelled Glands, Skin Diseases, Stiff Joints, Sore Legs, Ulcers, Sore Breasts, Venereal Sores, Sore Heads, Wounds of all kinds, Chapped Hands, Sore Throats, Sores of all kinds.

Sold at the Manufactories of Professor Holloway, 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and 244 Strand, London, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers of Medicines throughout the United States, and the civilized world, in Pots, at 25 cts., 62½ cts., and $1 each.

There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each Pot.

GREAT
American and Foreign Office
—FOR—
Securing Patents for Inventions.

FOR BUSINESS WITH THE U. S. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON.

R. H. EDDY,
No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby St.,
BOSTON.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The subscriber, (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office under the Act of 1837,) has different advantages in applying for patents, superior to those offered inventors, by other agents, in arrangements, whereby, on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY dollars (instead of twenty, as paid back by others) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal, through him, within thirty days after the rejection.

This agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings necessary for the procural of patents here and in foreign countries, prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents. The necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other countries, through agents of the highest ability.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

TESTIMONIALS.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.]

"Aug. 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 8, 1856.

Messrs. C. & J. Marshall—Gentlemen: At the request of your Agent in Baltimore, in regard to our opinion and experience of your copper-coated spikes, we, without hesitation, say we believe them the best substitute for copper yet introduced, and better fastening for ships, inasmuch as you have the strength of iron with the preservative qualities of copper.

We have used some of your Spikes in old vessels as a substitute for copper, and have had occasion to draw them out a year afterwards, and found them with the coating as firm as when they were driven, and with no appearance of oxidation.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) JOHN D. FARDY & BRO.

Singer's Sewing Machines.

ALL PERSONS who desire to obtain full and reliable information respecting SINGER'S SEWING MACHINES—their price, capabilities, advantages, sizes, improvements, method of working, means of procuring them, and all other particulars—can do so by applying at our office,

No. 323 Broadway, New York,

by letter or in person, for

I. M. SINGER & CO'S GAZETTE.

This paper is devoted entirely to the Sewing Machine interest. Copies will be supplied gratis to all interested.

N. B.—The unparalleled success of our Sewing Machines has induced several fraudulent imitations of them, besides numerous infringements of our patents—of which we own sixteen. Suits for the infringement of our patents have recently been decided in our favor in the U. S. Circuit Courts in New York and New Jersey. In these suits the great principle of Holding down the Fabric to be Sewed to the Surface of the Machine, by a yielding pressure, which is used in all Sewing Machines—has been fully established. The Wheeler & Wilson, and the Grover & Baker Sewing Machines, as we allege each infringe three distinct patents owned by us. We have suits against them in several of the U. S. Courts, which will soon be tried. We hereby caution the public not to buy any infringing Machines, as they can be compelled by law to stop using them, and to pay costs and damages.

☞Local Agents wanted to make sales of our improved sewing machines. To persons properly qualified for the business, a rare opportunity for profitable and pleasant employment is offered.

New and improved machines exchanged on liberal terms for old machines of every kind.

OFFICE of the Commissioner of Lotteries.—Baltimore, April 18, 1856. The undersigned, Commissioner of Lotteries of the State of Maryland, being in receipt daily of letters from various portions of the country, making inquiry as to Lottery Schemes with which the country is flooded, and which purport to be "decided by the Drawings of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries," takes this method to answer all such letters of inquiry, and inform the public that all Lotteries purporting to be decided by the Maryland Drawings are Gross Frauds; that certain parties who style themselves Morris & Co., and pretend to be Managers or Sole Agents for the Grand Charter Lotteries at Cleveland, Ohio, are impostors, and said Lottery a fraud, having neither legal or presumptive existence; and that another fictitious firm, styled Murry & Co., Cleveland, Ohio, are also impostors, and all Lotteries which they profess to be managers or agents for, are also frauds.

RICHARD FRANCE, of this city, is the Contractor for drawing the Maryland Lotteries. The business is conducted under the firm of R. France & Co., as Managers, and they have no sole agents in the city of Baltimore. There are, however, some forty licensed venders for the State of Maryland, who derive license under him through this office, to sell tickets in the Maryland Lotteries.

The Testimony of Accumulates

Allied Ointment.

Mr. C. H. KENT:
Dear Sir—I have been troubled for fifteen years with eruptions and bile on my face. I tried various remedies until I was disgusted at the sight of medicine. By your recommendation I was induced to make a trial of the celebrated Allied Ointment. It has more than answered my expectation. My face is now perfectly smooth and free from all eruptions. I am fully convinced of its merits, believing it will do all you claim for it, if used according to the directions.

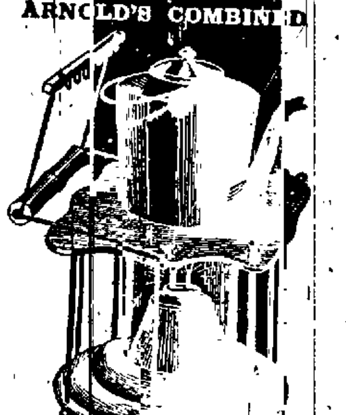
ARNOLD'S COMBINED



FOOT-STOVE, LANTERN,
....AND....
NURSE-LAMP,

ALBERT NOYES having purchased the exclusive right for manufacturing and vending in Penobscot county, the above valuable invention, is now prepared to offer them to the public.

As a FOOT STOVE, it answers an excellent purpose, as it can be sufficiently heated in less than one minute to warm and dry the feet in the coldest winter weather, and will be found to be an indispensable article in traveling. It is heated by an oil, alcohol, or fluid lamp, the flame of which is protected from every external object.

As a LANTERN, it answers all the usual purposes, and is less likely to be overset, or get broken, and can be used as a house lamp with equal advantage.

As a NURSE LAMP, and in cases of sickness, it is of great advantage in keeping drinks or medicines warm, beside giving the light desired; and for cooking in small quantities. For making tea, &c., it will be found very convenient, as a quart of water can be boiled in fifteen minutes, and a flat-iron heated in the same length of time.

In fact, the various purposes to which this neat apparatus can be put may be readily conjectured by every one. No further description is required, as no one can misunderstand its general utility. To say any thing more respecting its adaptability to a hundred purposes would just be telling what our readers can all see at once for themselves.

Universal Cough Mixture

IS a safe and effectual Remedy for Coughs of every description, whether of children or adults, of recent or long standing.

PREPARED ONLY BY
REV. WALTER CLARKE,
Sole Proprietor, Cornishville, Maine.

Within the last twelve months thousands of bottles of the Universal Cough Mixture have been sold in the State of Maine alone, and, everywhere its extraordinary power in relieving and curing diseases of the Chest and Lungs, is gratefully acknowledged; and especially in cases of obstinate and long standing Coughs, it speedily allays the unpleasant sensation in the throat which excites coughing, it promotes free and easy expectoration, and by removing the exciting cause of the cough, it frequently enables the sufferers to enjoy natural and refreshing sleep, who for weeks had been deprived of that blessing.

☞Sold in trial bottles, 25 cents each; large bottles, each containing the quantity of four small ones, 75 cents each.

Extract of a letter from Daniel Adams, Esq., of Bowdoinham, Maine.

FEBRUARY, 17th, 1853.

To Rev. Walter Clark. Dear Sir—The bottle of Cough Mixture which I bought of you at Topsham had the desired effect on my wife. She had been afflicted with a cough for two years—that bottle entirely removed it.

From Rev. Jesse Hoyt, Lewiston Falls.

BRO. CLARKE—Every bottle of the Universal Cough Mixture which you left with me, is sold—and I have several applications for more. As far as heard from, all have been perfectly satisfied with the medicine. One man, who had a cough of long standing, attended with tightness of the chest and shortness of breath, so that he was laid aside from business, purchased one large bottle, and before he had taken one third of it, was perfectly cured, and has had no cough since. He says it is the best medicine in the world, and cannot be recommended too highly.

JESSE HAYES.

From Mr. Fletcher Chick, agent for North Dixmont, Maine.

DEAR SIR—A number of the most extraordinary cures have been effected by your Universal Cough Mixture in this place. Several who had coughs of a year's standing, and others who have been doctored six months without receiving any benefit, have been speedily cured by the Universal Cough Mixture.

From Mrs. Hubbard, Thorndike, Me.

FEBRUARY 1, 1854.

To Rev. Walter Clark. Dear Sir—This certifies that I have used one bottle of your Universal Cough Mixture for a distressing cough and soreness in the lungs. I had previously taken several kinds of medicine, and had been under the care of several physicians, without obtaining the least relief; happily your Universal Cough Mixture was recommended to me. I procured a bottle, which I began to take according to directions on the label, by which in a few days I was entirely cured.

The Sacking and Burning in Lawrence—the Slaveholders' War upon Kansas.

We have no space to comment at length upon the last atrocious outrages committed in Kansas—nor have we language to express our abhorrence of the administration at Washington, which has permitted the border ruffians thus to carry fire and sword into the Territory, to subdue it to slavery—refusing to protect the Free State men against the pro-slavery bandits, even when they made no resistance to lawful arrests by U S. officers

If the accounts are correct, (of which there is no doubt) a part of Lawrence has been burned and some at least of its people murdered, because they would not give up their private arms to the Missouri mob, headed by the ruffian sheriff Jones, and leave themselves at the mercy of these drunken and infuriated men. The U. S. Marshal called out this mob himself, by a proclamation ostensibly to the militia of Kansas, on the pretext that the people of Lawrence were going to resist the execution of precepts in his hands for the arrest of Free State men. But our readers will see that the people of Lawrence offered no resistance at all to his authority, but on the contrary permitted him to enter the city and make all the arrests that he wished to make. After doing this, the Missouri mob headed by Jones was let loose upon the devoted place, and with cannon and the torch they went to work to wreak their vengeance.—And notwithstanding the urgent appeals of the people for protection by the U. S troops, they were not allowed to interfere, but by yesterday's accounts the mob were preparing to HANG Gov Robinson and other prominent free State men in the hands of those whom the Bangor Democrat calls the "lawful authorities" of Kansas, and were going on to subdue or exterminate every opponent of slavery in the Territory.

We repeat, that we have no words to express our astonishment and indignation at these infamous proceedings, aided or permitted as they have been by the United States authorities. There was nothing that equalled this in the tyranny, oppression and cruelty which roused our fathers to resistance against the power of Great Britain And yet all these acts are not only perpetrated or allowed by Franklin Pierce, but, what is still more alarming, they are defended or excused by the democratic leaders and the democratic papers throughout the country! Would any man in his senses have believed, six months ago, that things would have been carried to such an extremity as this?—that not only would President Pierce sustain the Border Ruffian Legislature and its atrocious laws for establishing slavery by the death penalty, but that he would also permit the bandits from Missouri to be again called into the Territory, and leave no authority for the U S. troops to protect the people from their murderous assaults! And yet these things are fast becoming history It is not six months since the administration organ in this city sneered at the prediction that the U S Government would sustain the Border Ruffian Legislature. But now, the government has not only done that, but it has permitted a fresh invasion which is intended to crush out in blood every vestige of opposition to slavery And not only the administration but the democratic party is responsible for these things—for their conventions and their papers all endorse the actions of President Pierce. The success of the democratic party at the next election—or of any party not out spoken against slavery—would be received by the South as a judgment of the people in favor of everything that has been done against the free State men of Kansas

Free men of Maine! Shall this democratic party be sustained, with the blood of freedom on its skirts, and with ruffianly assassins in its full confidence and favor? Shall such a party longer have "allies" to save it from destruction?

NOT SO.—The Boston Pilot calls Mr Herbert of California, a "Know Nothing," member of Congress The Pilot is mistaken The Know Nothings carried California at the last election, to be sure, but Herbert and his colleague, J. W Denver, were elected at the previous election, in September 1854, when the democrats carried the State They were the regular candidates of the democratic party, and have always been classed as administration democrats Herbert went from Alabama to California, and contracted his tyrannical disposition, and his contempt for the laboring classes under the southern system of slavery

Blair's Letter to the Republican Association of Washington—the Address of George M. Weston Esq, at Washington, upon the Effects of Southern Slavery on Northern Wages,—and the able paper from the same gentleman, upon the condition and prospects of the Poor Whites of the South.

SENATOR SUMNER'S SPEECH.

(CONCLUDED.)

[We deeply regret the necessity which compels us here to omit a considerable portion of Mr. SUMNER'S argument, showing how several States have been admitted with a smaller population than Kansas now has, as well as without a preliminary enabling act by Congress and in contempt or defiance of those forms which are now insisted on as essential. He cites in this connection the arguments of Messrs Buchanan and Grundy, with the votes also of Messrs Benton, Wright, W R. King, Frank Pierce, &c in favor of the admission of Michigan upon the vote of a spontaneous, in opposition to that of a legally assembled Convention. Mr. S continued]—Tribune.

Thus, in this day, by such triumphant votes, did the cause of Kansas prevail in the name of Michigan A popular Convention—called absolutely without authority and containing delegates from a portion only of the population—called, too, in opposition to constituted authorities, and in derogation of another Convention assembled under the forms of law—stigmatized as a caucus and a criminal meeting whose authors were liable to indictment, trial and punishment—was, after ample debate, recognized by Congress as valid, and Michigan now holds her place in the Union, and her Senators sit upon this floor by virtue of that act. But if Michigan is legitimate, Kansas cannot be illegitimate. You legitimize Michigan when you refuse to recognize Kansas. Again, I ask, do you require a precedent? I give it to you. But I will not stake this cause on any precedent; I plant it firmly on the fundamental principles of American institutions, as embodied in the Declaration of Independence, by which Government is recognized as deriving its just powers only from the consent of the governed, who may alter or abolish it when it becomes destructive of their rights. In the debate on the Nebraska bill, the overthrow of the Prohibition of Slavery, the Declaration of Independence was denounced as a 'self evident lie.' It is only by a similar audacity that the fundamental principle, which sustains the proceedings in Kansas, can be assailed. Nay, more; you must drown the Declaration of Independence, and adopt the Creed of the Holy Alliance, which declares that "useful and necessary changes in legislation and in the administration of States ought only to emanate from the free will and the intelligent and well weighed conviction of those whom God has rendered responsible for power." Face to face I put the principle of the Declaration of Independence and the principle of the Holy Alliance, and bid them grapple! "The one places the remedy in the hands which feel the disorder, the other places the remedy in the hands which cause the disorder;" and when I thus truthfully characterize them, I but adopt a sententious phrase from the Debates in the Virginia Convention on the adoption of the Federal Constitution.—(3 Elliott's Debates, 107—Mr Corbin) And now these two principles, embodied in the rival propositions of the Senator from New York and the Senator from Illinois, must grapple on this floor. Statesmen and judges, publicists and authors, with names of authority in American history, espouse and vindicate the American principle, which in hand, they now stand around Kansas and feel the new State lean on them for support. Of these I content myself with adducing two only, both from the old slaveholding Virginia, in days when Human Rights were not without support in that State Listen to the language of St. George Tucker, the distinguished commentator upon Blackstone, uttered from the bench in a judicial opinion:

"The power of convening the legal Assemblies, or the ordinary constitutional Legislature, resided solely in the Executive. They could neither be chosen, without writs issued by its authority, nor assemble, when chosen, but under the same authority. The Conventions, on the contrary, were chosen and assembled either in pursuance of recommendations from Congress, or from their own bodies, or by the discretion and common consent of the people. They were held even while a legal Assembly existed [Witness the Convention held at Richmond in March, 1775, after which period the legal constitutional Assembly was convened in Williamsburg by the Governor, Lord Dunmore. * * * Yet a constitutional dependence on the British Government was never denied until the succeeding May. * * * The Convention then was not the ordinary Legislature of Virginia. It was the body of the people, impelled to assemble from a sense of common danger, consulting for the common good, and acting in all things for the common safety" [1 Virginia Cases, 70, 71 Kamper vs Hawkins.]

Listen to the language of James Madison:

"That in all great changes of established Government, forms ought to give way to substance; that a rigid adherence in such cases to the forms would render nominal and nugatory the transcendent and precious right of the people to abolish or alter their Government, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. * * * Nor can it have been forgotten that no little ill timed scruples, no zeal for adhering to ordinary forms, were anywhere seen, except in those who wished to indulge under these masks their secret enmity to the substance contended for." [The Federalist, No 40

Proceedings thus sustained I am unwilling to call revolutionary, although this term has the sanction of the Senator from New-York. They are founded on an unquestionable American right, declared with Independence, confirmed by the blood of the fathers, and expounded by patriots which cannot be impeached without impairing the liberties of all. On this head the language of Mr. Buchanan is explicit

"Does the Senator (Mr Calhoun) contend then, that if in one of the States of this Union the Government be so organized as to utterly destroy the right of equal representation, there is no mode of obtaining redress, but by an Act of the Legislature authorizing a Convention, or by open rebellion? Must the people step at once from oppression to open war? Must it be either absolute submission or absolute revolution? Is there no middle course? I cannot agree with the Senator. I say that the whole history of our Government establishes the principle that the people are sovereign, and that a majority of them can alter or change their fundamental laws at pleasure. I deny that this is either rebellion or revolution. It is an essential and a recognized principle in all our forms of Government."—[Congress Deb., Vol 13, p 513 24th Cong, 2d session

Surely, Sir, if ever there was occasion for the exercise of this right, it has now come in Kansas The people there had been subjugated by a horde of foreign invaders, and through the tyrannical code of revolting barbarity, while property and life among them were left exposed to sudden assaults which flaunted at noonday, and to secret abuses which crawled in the darkness of night. Self defence is the first law of nature, and unless this law is temporarily silenced—as all other law has been silenced there—you cannot condemn the proceedings in Kansas. Here, Sir, is an unquestionable principle—in itself an overwhelming law—which belongs to all countries and times—in presence of which acts of Congress and Constitutions are as powerless as the voice of man against the thunder which rolls through the sky—which whispers itself coeval with life—whose very breath is life itself; and now, in the last resort, do I place all these proceedings under this supreme safeguard, which you will assail in vain. Any opposition must be founded on a fundamental perversion of facts or perversion of fundamental principle, which no words can uphold, though supported by numbers like the nine hundred thousand piles driven into the mud in order to sustain the Dutch Stadhouse at Amsterdam"

Thus on every ground of precedent, whether as regards population, or forms of proceeding, also on the vital principles of American institutions, and lastly on the unquestionable law of self defence, do I invoke the power of Congress to admit Kansas at once and without hesitation into the Union. "New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union," such are the words of the Constitution. If you hesitate for want of precedent, then do I appeal to the great principles of American Institutions. If, forgetting the origin of the Republic, you turn away from this principle, then, in the name of human nature, trampled down, and oppressed, but aroused to a just self-defence, do I plead for the exercise of this power. Do not harken, I pray you, to the propositions of Tyranny and Folly; do not be ensnared by that other proposition of the Senator from Illinois, (Mr Douglas,) in which is the horrid foot of Injustice and Civil War. But apply gladly, and at once, the true remedy, wherein are Justice and Peace. Mr. President, an immense space has been traversed, and I now stand at the goal. The argument, in its various parts, is here closed The crime against Kansas has been displayed in its origin and extent, beginning with the overthrow of the Prohibition of Slavery, next creeping out in conspiracy on the borders of Missouri, then hardening into continuity of outrage, through organized invasions and miscellaneous assaults, in which all security was destroyed, and ending at last in the perfect subjugation of a generous people to an unprecedented Usurpation.—Turning aghast from the Crime, which, like murder, seemed to confess itself with most miraculous organ, we have looked with mingled shame and indignation upon the four Apologies, whether of Tyranny, Imbecility, Absurdity, or Infamy, in which it has been wrapped, marking especially the false testimony, congenial with original Crime, against the Emigrant Aid Company. Then were noted, in succession, the four Remedies, whether of Tyranny, Folly, Injustice and Civil War, or Justice and Peace—which last bids Kansas, in conformity with past precedents and under the exigencies of the hour, in order to redeem her from Usurpation, to take a place as a sovereign State of the Union, and this is the true remedy. If in this argument I have not unworthily vindicated Truth, then I have spoken according to my desires, if imperfectly, then only according to my powers. But there are other things not belonging to the argument, which still press for utterance. Sir, the people of Kansas, bone of your bone and flesh of your flesh, with the education of freemen and the rights of American citizens, now stand at your door. Will you send them away, or bid them enter? Will you push them back to renew their struggles with a deadly foe, or will you preserve them in security and peace? Will you cast them again into the den of Tyranny, or will you help their despairing efforts to escape? These questions I put with no common solicitude, for I feel that on their just determination depend all the most precious interests of the Republic; and I perceive too clearly the prejudices in the way, and the accumulating bitterness against this distant people, now claiming their birthright, while I am bowed with mortification as I recognize the President of the United States, who should have been a staff to the weak and a shield to the innocent, at the head of this strange oppression. At every stage the similitude between the wrongs of Kansas, and those other wrongs against which our fathers rose, becomes more apparent. Read the Declaration of Independence, and there is hardly an accusation which is there directed against the British Monarch which may not now be directed with increased force against the American President. The parallel has a fearful particularity.—Our fathers had complained that the King had "sent hither swarms of officers to harrass our people, and eat out their substance," that "he had combined, with others, to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our Constitution, giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation," "that he had abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his protection, and waging war against us," that "he had excited domestic insurrection among us, and endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontier the merciless savages," that "our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injury." And this arraignment was aptly followed by the damning words, that "a Prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people." And surely a President who has done all these things, cannot be less unfit than a Prince. At every stage, the responsibility is brought direct to him. His offence has been both of commission and omission. He has done that which he ought not to have done, and has left undone that which he ought to have done. By his activity the Prohibition of Slavery was overturned. By his failure to act, the honest emigrants in Kansas have been left a prey to wrong of all kinds. Nullum flagitium extitit, nisi per te, nullum flagitium sine te. And now he stands forth the most conspicuous enemy of that unhappy territory. As the tyranny of the British king is all renewed in the President; so on this floor have the old indignities been renewed which embittered and fomented the trouble of our fathers. The early petition of the American Congress to Parliament, long before any suggestion of Independence was opposed—like the petition of Kansas—because that body "was assembled without any requisition on the part of the Supreme Power."—Another petition from New York, presented by Edmund Burke, was finally rejected, as claiming rights derogatory to Parliament. And still another petition from Massachusetts Bay, was dismissed as "vexatious and scandalous," while the patriot and philosopher who bore it was exposed to peculiar contumely. Throughout the debates, our fathers were made the butt of sorry jests and supercilious assumptions. And now these scenes, with these precise objections, have been renewed in the American Senate. With regret, I come again upon the Senator from South Carolina (Mr. Butler), who, omnipresent in this debate, overflowed with rage at the simple suggestion that Kansas had applied for admission as a State, and with incoherent phrases, discharged the loose expectoration of his speech, now upon her Representative and then upon her people. There was no extravagance of the ancient Parliamentary debate which he did not repeat, nor was there any possible deviation from truth which he did not make, with so much of passion, I am glad to add, as to save him from the suspicion of intentional aberration. But the Senator touches nothing which he does not disfigure—with error, sometimes of principle, sometimes of fact He shows an incapacity of accuracy, whether in stating the Constitution or in stating the law, whether in the details of statistics or the diversions of scholarship. He cannot open his mouth but out there flies a blunder. Surely he ought to be familiar with the life of Franklin; and yet he referred to this household character, while acting as agent of our fathers in England as above suspicion, and this was done that he might give point to a false contrast with the agent of Kansas—not knowing that however they may differ in genius and fame, in this experience they are alike; that Franklin, when intrusted with the petition of Massachusetts Bay, was assaulted by a foul-mouthed speaker, where he could not be heard in defence, and denounced as a "thief," even as the agent of Kansas has been assaulted on this floor, and denounced as a "forger." And let not the vanity of the Senator be inspired by the parallel with the British statesman of that day, for it is only in hostility to freedom that any parallel can be recognized. But it is against the people of Kansas that the sensibilities of the Senator are particularly aroused. Coming, as he announces, "from a State"—aye, Sir, from South Carolina—he turns with lordly disgust from the newly formed community, which he will not recognize even as a "body politic." Pray, Sir, by what title does he indulge in this egotism? Has he read the history of "the State" which he represents? He cannot surely have forgotten its shameful imbecility from Slavery confessed throughout the Revolution followed by its more shameful assumptions for Slavery since. He cannot have forgotten its wretched persistence in the slave trade as the very apple of its eye, and the condition of its participation in the Union. He cannot have forgotten its Constitution, which is republican only in name, confirming power in the hands of the few, and founding the qualifications of voters on "a settled freehold estate and ten negroes." And yet the Senator, to whom that "State" has in part committed the guardianship of its good name, instead of moving, with backward treading steps to cover its nakedness, rushes forward in the very ecstacy of madness, to expose it by provoking a comparison with Kansas. South Carolina is old; Kansas is young. South Carolina counts by centuries, where Kansas counts by years. But a beneficent example may be born in a day; and I venture to say that against the two centuries of the older "State" may be already set the two years of trial, evolving corresponding virtue in the younger community. In the one, is the long wail of Slavery; in the other the hymns of Freedom.—And if we glance at the special achievements, it will be difficult to find anything in the history of South Carolina which presents so much of heroic spirit in a heroic cause as appears in that repulse of the Missouri invaders by the beleagured town of Lawrence, where even the women gave their effective efforts to Freedom. The matrons of Rome, who poured their jewels into the treasury for the public defence—the wives of Prussia, who, with delicate fingers clothed their defenders against French invasion—the mothers of our own Revolution, who sent forth their sons, covered over with prayers and blessings, to combat for Human Rights, did nothing of self sacrifice truer than did these women on this occasion. Were the whole history of South Carolina blotted out of existence, from its very beginning down to the day of the last election of the Senator to his present seat on this floor, civilization might lose—I do not say how little, but surely less than it has already gained by the example of Kansas in its valiant struggle against oppression, and in the development of a new science of emigration. Already in Lawrence alone there are newspapers and schools, including a High School, and throughout the Territory there is more academic education than in all Missouri outside of St Louis and more far, in proportion to its inhabitants than all South Carolina. Ah, Sir, I tell the Senator that Kansas, welcomed as a Free State will be a "ministering angel" to the Republic, when South Carolina in the cloak of darkness which she hugs "lies howling."

The senator from Illinois [Mr Douglas] naturally joins the Senator from South Carolina in this warfare, and gives to it the superior intensity of his nature. He thinks that the national government has not completely proved its power as it has never hanged a traitor, but, if the occasion requires, he hopes there will be no hesitation; and this threat is directed at Kansas, and even at the friends of Kansas throughout the country.

Again occurs the parallel with the struggles of our Fathers, and I borrow the language of Patrick Henry, when, to the cry from the senator, of "Treason!" "Treason!" I reply, "If this be treason, make the most of it." Sir, it is easy to call names; but I beg to tell the senator that if the word "traitor" is in any way applicable to those who refuse submission to a tyrannical usurpation, whether in Kansas or elsewhere then must some new word, of deeper color, be invented to designate those mad spirits who would endanger and degrade the Republic, while they betray all the cherished sentiments of the Fathers and the spirit of the Constitution, in order to give new spread to slavery. Let the senator proceed. It will not be the first time in history, that a scaffold erected for punishment has become a pedestal of honor. Out of death comes life, and the "traitor" whom he blindly executes will live immortal in the cause

"For Humanity sweeps onward where to day the martyr stands,
On the morrow crouches Judas, with the silver in his hands,
While the hooting mob of yesterday in silent awe return
To glean up the scattered ashes in History's golden urn."

Among these hostile senators, there is yet another, with all the prejudices of the senator from South Carolina, but without his generous impulses, who, on account of his character before the country, and the rancor of his opposition, deserves to be named. I mean the senator from Virginia, (Mr Mason) who as the author of the Fugitive Slave bill, has associated himself with a special act of inhumanity and tyranny. Of him I shall say little, for he has said little in this debate, though within that little was compressed the bitterness of a life absorbed in the support of slavery. He holds the commission of Virginia, but he does not represent that early Virginia, so dear to our hearts, which gave to us the pen of Jefferson, by which the equality of men was declared, and the sword of Washington, by which independence was secured, but he represents that other Virginia, from which Washington and Jefferson now avert their faces, where human beings are bred as cattle for the shambles, and where a dungeon rewards the pious matron who teaches little children to relieve their bondage by reading the Book of Life. It is proper that such a senator, representing such a state, should rail against free Kansas. * * * *

To overthrow this usurpation is now the special, importunate duty of Congress, admitting of no hesitation or postponement. To this end it must lift itself from the scabbard of candidates, the machinations of party, and the low level of vulgar strife. It must turn from that slave oligarchy which now controls the republic, and refuse to be its tool. Let its power be stretched forth towards this distant territory not to bind, but to unbind, not for the oppression of the weak, but for the subversion of the tyrannical, not for prop and maintenance of a revolting usurpation, but for confirmation of liberty

"These are imperial arts, and worthy thee"

Let it now take its stand between the living and the dead, and cause this plague to be stayed. All this it can do, and if the interests of slavery did not oppose, all this it would do at once, in reverent regard for justice law and order, driving far away all the alarms of war, nor would it dare to brave the shame and punishment of this great refusal. But the slave power dares anything, and it can be conquered only by the united masses of the people. From Congress to the people I appeal.

Already public opinion gathers unwonted forces to scourge the aggressors. In the press, in daily conversation, wherever two or three are gathered together, there the indignant utterance finds vent. And trade, by unerring indications, attests the growing energy. Public credit in Missouri droops. The six per cents of that state, which at par should be 102, have sunk to 81 1-4—thus at once completing the evidence of crime, and attesting its punishment. Business is now turning from the Assassins and Thugs, that infest the Missouri river, on the way to Kansas, to seek some safer avenue. And this, though not unimportant in itself, is typical of greater changes The political credit of the men who uphold the usurpation droops even more than the stocks and the people are turning from all those through whom the Assassins and Thugs have derived their disgraceful immunity

It was said of old, "Cursed be he that removeth his neighbor's landmark And all the people shall say, Amen."—(Deut xxvii, 17) Cursed, it is said, in the city and in the field cursed in basket and store cursed when thou comest in, and cursed when thou goest out These are terrible imprecations but if ever any landmark were sacred, it was that by which an immense territory was guarded forever against slavery; and if ever such imprecations could justly descend upon any one, they must descend now upon all who, not content with the removal of this sacred landmark, have since, with criminal complicity, fostered the encursions of the great Wrong against which it was intended to guard. But I utter no imprecations These are not my words. Nor is it my part to add to or subtract from them But thanks be to God! they find a response in the hearts of an aroused people, making them turn from every man, whether President, or senator, or representative, who has been engaged in this crime—especially from those who, cradled in free institutions, are without the apology of education of social prejudice—until of all such those other words of the prophet shall be fulfilled— I will set my face against that man and make him a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people."—(Ezekiel, xiv, 8) Turning thus from the authors of this crime the people will unite once more with the Fathers of the Republic in a just condemnation of slavery—determined especially that it shall find no home in the national territories—while the Slave Power, in which the crime had its beginning, and by which it is now sustained, will be swept into the catalogue of departed tyrannies

In this contest Kansas bravely stands forth—the stripling leader, clad in the panoply of American institutions. In calmly meeting and adopting a frame of government, her people have with intuitive promptitude performed the duties of freemen and when I consider the difficulties in which she was beset, I find dignity in her attitude. In offering herself for admission into the Union as a FREE STATE, she presents a single issue for the people to decide. And since the slave power now stakes on this issue all its ill gotten supremacy, the people while vindicating Kansas will at the same time overthrow this tyranny. Thus does the contest which she now begins involve not only liberty for herself, but for the whole country. God be praised that she did not bend ignobly beneath the yoke! Far away on the prairies she is now battling for the liberty of all, against the President who misrepresents all. Everywhere among those who are not insensible to right, the generous struggle meets a generous response. From innumerable throbbing hearts go forth the very words of encouragement which in the sorrowful days of our fathers were sent by Virginia, speaking by the pen of Richard Henry Lee, to Massachusetts, in the person of her popular tribune, Samuel Adams

CHANTILLY, (Va) June 23 1774

"I hope the good people of Boston will not lose their spirits under their present heavy oppression, for they will certainly be supported by the other colonies and the cause for which they suffer is so glorious and so deeply interesting to the present and future generations that all America will owe in a great measure their political salvation to the present virtue of Massachusetts Bay" [American Archives, 4th series, vol 1, p 446

In all this sympathy there is strength But in the cause itself there is angelic power Unseen of men, the great spirits of History combat by the side of the people of Kansas, breathing a divine courage. Above all towers the majestic form of Washington once more, as on the bloody field, bidding them to remember those rights of human nature for which the war of independence was waged! Such a cause thus sustained is invincible

The contest which, beginning in Kansas, has reached us, will soon be transferred from Congress to a broader stage, where every citizen will be not only a spectator but actor, and to their judgment I confidently appeal. To the people now on the eve of exercising the electoral franchise, in choosing a Chief Magistrate of the Republic, I appeal to vindicate the electoral franchise in Kansas. Let the ballot box of the Union, with multitudinous might, protect the ballot box in that territory. Let the voters everywhere while rejoicing in their own rights, help to guard the equal rights of distant fellow citizens that the shrines of popular institutions, now desecrated, may be sanctified anew, that the ballot-box now plundered, may be restored and that the cry, "I am an American citizen," may not be sent forth in vain against outrage of any kind In just regard for free labor in that territory, which it is sought to blast by unwelcome association with slave labor, in Christian sympathy with the slave, whom it is proposed to task and sell there, in stern condemnation of the crime which has been consummated on that beautiful soil, in rescue of fellow citizens now subjugated to a tyrannical usurpation in dutiful respect for the early fathers, whose aspirations are now ignobly thwarted, in the name of the Constitution, which has been outraged—of the laws trampled down—of justice banished—of humanity degraded—of peace destroyed—of freedom crushed to earth, and, in the name of the Heavenly Father, whose service is perfect freedom, I make this last appeal.

RUFFIANLY PROCLIVITIES.—Among the nays on Mr. Campbell's resolution, authorising the appointment of a select committee to investigate the cowardly and brutal assault upon Chas. Sumner, we notice the name of Mr. Henry Herbert of California. This latter gentleman succeeded in his murderous attack upon an unoffending individual; it is therefore natural that he should sympathize with an effort impelled by the same deadly instincts, though not quite so completely successful as his own—Like begets like, and a man, whether in Congress or out, who would not scruple to commit murder on the slightest provocation, can always be accounted sure to sustain those having the same contempt for human life as himself.—[Boston Transcript.

SALE OF SHIPS. Among the sales of vessels at Liverpool, between the 25th ult, and the 19th inst., reported in Messrs. Cunard, Brett & Austin's Circular, of the latter date, are the following:—The Black Swan, of 1027 tons, old measurement, 896 new, built at St Andrews, will class four years, brought £6000, the Kertch, 397, o. m., 246 new, built at Quebec, will class seven years, £1400; the Queen of the Isles, 395 tons, o. m., 226 new, built at St. John, will class four years, £1160. These vessels were all built in 1855.—St. John Courier.

Cincinnati has seven steam fire engines, which can each force water, if necessary, through 1,000 feet of hose.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, May 23, 1856.

The worst feeling prevails here. The coolest men believe that the session of Congress will not terminate without bloodshed. The Northern members, many of them, are arming. The Southerners, to a man, exult over the outrage upon Mr. Sumner. The investigation will prove it to have been the result of an extensive arrangement and conspiracy. The ferocious spirit of Judge Douglas' famous expression, "We will subdue you!" animates the whole body of the slaveholders. They are determined to ride rough-shod over everybody.

FIRE. This morning about two o'clock, the new brig Susan T Norcross, laying at Veazie's wharf, was discovered to be on fire, in the house and around the foot of the mainmost. The engines were on the spot as soon as possible, and the fire was extinguished, after burning out the house, damaging the mainmast so that it will have to be replaced, and destroying some of the running rigging. The fire apparently took outside of the house, and between it and the foot of the mainmast three feet distant. A young man named Philander Hall was asleep in the house, and came near losing his life, being aroused by those who discovered the fire, barely in season to make his escape The damage to the vessel is some hundreds of dollars. The fire did not get under deck.

SHOCKING AND FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Monday evening last, four persons, two gentlemen and two ladies, who were enjoying themselves at an evening party in Bloomfield, took a boat and started for a sail They allowed the boat to take its own course, without noticing that they were rapidly being drawn towards the falls. Some persons on the shore seeing their danger, notified them of it, when their fright became intense. One couple sprung out and were saved. The other couple—a young gentleman and lady who were to have been married in a few weeks—also sprang out and were carried to a jam of logs at the head of the falls. A person ran on to the jam and seized the young lady, when she heroically insisted that he should save the gentleman first. He accordingly loosened his hold to assist the other, when a cry came from the shore that the jam had started, and they slipped from his grasp and were dashed over the Falls Their bodies have not been found. Our informant could not ascertain the names

The will of the late Jabes Barber of Chicago, who with his wife and daughter were passengers on the ill-fated steamer Pacific, has been opened for probate. His estate is valued at $250,000, and his will makes bequests of $1000 to the Foreign Missionary Society, $1000 to the Home Missionary Society, $1000 to the Bible Society, and $3000 to a Presbyterian Church in Chicago A little orphan girl is sole heir to the remainder of his estate.

About 3000 persons assembled lately in an amphitheater in Sacramento, Cal., to witness a fight between a bull and an immense grizzly bear weighing 2000 lbs, but the noble brutes could not be made to fight, and the ignoble brutes killed them in their vexation.

What is that which is often brought to the table, always cut, but never eaten? A pack of cards.

LATER FROM EUROPE.
ARRIVAL OF THE

BALTIC
AT NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 27, 1856.

The S Steamship Baltic, Capt. Comstock, arrived at this port this morning at half past 6 o'clock. She sailed from Liverpool at 3 o'clock P. M. Wednesday 14th inst. and brings London dates of that day as well as commercial matters to the close of business.

She has considerable news of interest by the arrival.

It is stated from Constantanople that a defensive alliance had been concluded at Tehran between Persia and the United States and that the text of it had arrived at Constantinople. It is kept very secretly—a commercial treaty must be meant Hamburg.

It is reported from Hamburg that an American squadron is expected soon to enter the Baltic.

Russia.

Russia is reported to have demanded explanations respecting the joint treaty, secretly concluded between France, England and Austria, guaranteeing the independence of Turkey—that rumor has not affected the Stock Exchange—it cannot be considered dangerous.

Russia is about to commence another campaign under Gen. Monravieff, against the Circassians.

Belgium.

Considerable excitement yet reigns in Belgium on the subject of the attempt of France to muzzle the Press. An abation has been offered by the Belgium editors to Count Villian for the needful expressed determination to uphold the liberty of the Press

Paris correspondence, however, says that the French and Belgium Governments have come to an understanding in the matter.

Belgium will take more active measures to arrest the publication of appeals to absconders, and France, will take an early opportunity of expressing satisfaction there with.

Italy.

Prefects of Italy continue to excite a large share of attention

Reviews of Gen Walker's battle at Rivas created some but not much attention in England.

France.

The French Government is stated to have its attention particularly awakened towards the movements of the secret societies which are becoming dangerous

Later from California!

ARRIVAL OF THE GRANADA.

NEW ORLEANS, May 27.

The steamship Granada, from Havana, on the 24th inst., arrived here to-day. The latest California dates is the 6th inst. The California news is unimportant.

The markets were without any change of moment.

The war against the Indians in Oregon and Washington Territories was being prosecuted with vigor and the Indians had met with several defeats

In Mariposa County, a party of Americans had murdered 20 Mexicans and Chilians, the pretext being that some Americans had been killed by the Chilians. The Americans had ordered all the Chinese, Mexicans, Chilians and Peruvians to leave. The volunteers against the Indians complained badly of lack of patience, neglect in the Commissariat Department

From Central America it is reported that the Costa Ricans had shipped the wounded from San Juan Del Sur. The Costa Ricans say that they were deceived in regard to the feelings of the people of Nicaragua towards Walker, and expected to be received with open arms. They were very indignant at the false representation which were made to them on the subject. They confirmed what the loss of the Costa Ricans in the battle of Rivas in killed and wounded amounted to 650, and that of Walker to about one hundred Congressional.

WASHINGTON, May 27.

SENATE. Mr. Slidell called attention to a telegraphic dispatch giving Sumner's statement before the House Committee. Mr. S said the statement declares "other persons were about me offering me friendly assistance, but I did not recognize them. Others were at a distance looking on and offering no assistance, of whom I recognized only Mr Douglas of Ill., and I thought my assailant standing beside him. I was helped from the floor and conducted into the lobby of the Senate where I was placed upon a sofa. Of those who helped me to the place I have no recollection. As I entered the lobby I recognized Mr. Slidell of La., who retreated, but I recognized no one else until some time later as I supposed, when I felt a friendly grasp of the hand, which seemed to come from Mr. Campbell of Ohio."

Mr Slidell said it seemed to him proper to explain his own position relative to these matters, as the published statement might make a false impression in the matter. When the Senate adjourned that day he entered an ante room where he remained in conversation with Messrs Douglas, Fitzpatrick, and J. Glancy Jones, and while there was informed that Mr. Sumner had been badly beaten by Mr Brooks. He came into the Senate chamber, but there were so many persons crowded around Mr Sumner that he did not see him at all and he soon returned to the ante-room to finish his conversation Having remained there for some time he was passing through the reception room to go home when he met Mr. Sumner in the doorway leaning on two persons whom he did not know. His face was covered with blood, and as he (Slidell) was not on such terms as to make it necessary to express any sympathy, not having spoken to Mr. Sumner for two years, he turned aside and went out by another door. He had not the slightest idea before the occurrence took place that Mr. Brooks or any body else had any intentions of attacking Mr Sumner, and was certainly free from any participation or counsel in the matter.

Mr Douglas corroborated the statement of Mr Slidell, and said that when he (Douglas) heard that Mr. Sumner had been attacked, his first idea was to come to and endeavor to restore quiet, but upon reflection that his motives in interposing might be misconstrued, he did not enter the Senate until the affray was over. The crowd around Sumner was then so large that for some time he could not see him. He saw Messrs. Toombs, Crittenden, Pearce and Evans all seated in or near their usual seats, but he was not near Brooks as stated in the report. This was a total misapprehension on the part of Mr S. Mr D. added that he had no knowledge or suspicion that any assault was contemplated or would be made here or elsewhere. He did not approach Mr Brooks, speak to him, and was not within 50 feet of the Senator from Ga., Mr Toombs. How such an idea could get into Mr. S's head it was impossible for him to conceive. The statement might carry an impression to the country that he was aiding and abetting and was in fact a participant in the assault, but that was an entirely erroneous idea, as he did not even know that Mr. Sumner was in the Capitol at the time the assault was committed.

Mr. Toombs then stated that he was in his seat at the time, and how Mr. Sumner could suppose he saw him near Mr. B. he could not tell. It might be that he mistook Gen. Gorman for him. Mr. T. further said that in expressing opinions about the affair at the time, some gentlemen condemned it but that he (Toombs) told Mr. Brooks that he approved it.

Mr Butler of S. C. said he had just arrived in the city, but had he been in Washington he should have assumed all the responsibility taken by his gallant relative. He denied in the most emphatic manner the statement of Mr Sumner that what he had said in his speech was strictly in response to what Butler had said on former occasions He understood that the Legislature of Mass. had passed resolutions in reference to the affray, and when these resolutions should be presented to the Senate he would speak on the subject as it deserved Not a single one of the remarks in relation to him was a response to anything which he (Butler) said on the Kansas question. His friends in S C and some of his friends here, said that he (Butler) had been remarkably moderate in the character of his remarks. He had scrupulously avoided saying anything to violate the courtesies of Senatorial debate, and spoke neither of the Senators from Mass, to him, or about him.

Mr Wade said it was impossible for him to sit still and hear such principles avowed on this occasion. As to the facts in reference to the assault he knew nothing about them and had nothing to say on that point. He was here in a pretty lean majority, not more than about one fifth of the Senate entertaining opinions similar to his. But when he heard it stated that on the floor an assassin like cowardly attack had been made upon a man unarmed, and having no power to defend himself, and that he had been stricken down and almost murdered, and then heard a Senator say that he approved such conduct, it became a matter of some interest and importance to all the members of this body, and especially to the minority. A brave man could not defend himself against such an attack as this; and might be overpowered by numbers, but overpowered or not, live or die, said he, I will vindicate the rights of liberty of debate and the freedom of discussion, so long as I live. If the principle announced here is to prevail, let us come armed for the combat. Although you are four to one, I am here to meet you. A man can die in no better cause than in vindication of the rights of debate on the floor. If these are the principles that are to be approved by a majority and become a part and parcel of the law of Congress, let it be understood.

Mr Wilson thought the explanation of Mr Slidell was not inconsistent with anything stated by his colleague He had no idea that Mr Sumner intended to place Mr. Slidell in a false position. The Senator from Ill., has, he said, also made his explanation, and I see nothing in that inconsistent with the statement of Mr Sumner. He was stricken down upon the floor by a brutal, murderous and cowardly assault.

Mr Butler, in his seat. You are a liar.

Mr Stuart called the Senator to order, and stated also that there was no question before the Senate It was evident debate was becoming acrimonious, and he hoped it might be postponed until the matter could be considered with more calmness.

Mr Butler apologized for words which fell from him in a moment of excitement, and said that in discussing the resolutions of the Mass Legislature, if he should transgress the bounds of propriety it would be because he was provoked to it He had been the agressor and he called upon the Senate to bear witness to the fact.

Mr Wilson resumed his colleague had stated the facts to the best of his recollection, and it was not to be expected that after such severe blows which had rendered him unconscious he could be perfectly accurate in every minute particular. He did not believe he had intended to do injustice to anybody, and when he was again able to take his seat he would be ready to meet the Senator from S C, and others, in debate Meantime any assumption of superiority by the Senator might pass for what it was worth.

Mr Foster alluded to the avowal of Mr. Toombs—that he approved of the conduct of Mr Brooks—and thought it was incumbent on him, as he had not participated in debate to any considerable extent, to say a word as to the reasons for his silence. If he remained silent, some might suppose it was through fear of like consequences to himself. He wished to dissuade the minds of Senators, if any of such misapprehensions exist. He had thus far participated but slightly in debate, because, being a new member, he thought it more becoming for him to listen than to speak, but when such intimations as the Senator, Mr. Toombs, had made, were given, it might be supposed if Senators did not speak, that a passion so base and unworthy as fear was the reason of their silence He now wished to assert his entire approval of the freedom of speech here and elsewhere, to be maintained at whatever cost, and whatever might be the consequences. If a contrary doctrine should ever prevail in this country, there would be an end to liberty, for he believed that the liberty of the press, liberty of speech, and liberty of the people would live and die together.

Mr. Trumbull expressed a desire to speak on the topic about 5 minutes, but the hour had arrived for considering the special order

Mr. Hale moved to postpone the special order, to allow Mr. Trumbull to speak.

The motion was negatived by 11 yeas to 29 nays.

Mr. Cass made further explanation in reference to the correspondence of Mr Crampton, which he said misrepresented him. The President's veto of the bill for the improvement of the mouth of the Mississippi, was discussed without action. Adjourned.

From Kansas.

CHICAGO, May 27.

The St Louis Republican of yesterday contains a letter announcing the return of Messrs. Robinson, Schuyler and Conway under the charge of the Territorial authorities An extra was issued in Kansas city, from the Enterprise office, on the 22d inst., received here last night, which says that Jones took about 20 men into Lawrence, and at his demand Gen. Pomeroy surrendered all the rifles and cannon he could get, which were stacked in the street.

Jones then requested Eldridge to move his furniture from the hotel, as he declined to do so a posse entered and carried most of it into the street Jones gave express orders that no private property should be injured and particularly that Gov Robinson's should not be touched, but after a portion of the posse had left the house was burned. During the excitement one man was shot and another killed by the falling brick from the walls of the Hotel.

Cheap & Convenient Building.

Door, Sash and Blind Factory.

A. DUNBAR

HAS been very successful in completing several contracts for Door Frames, Doors, Window Frames and Sashes, and Blinds, for good dwelling houses and other buildings to be erected in this city, the coming season. He has excellent workmen in his employ, and has superior stock, so that he is now able to supply to those about to build the best articles of Door Frames, Window Frames, Sashes, and Blinds, made to any dimensions and of superior quality, either for a whole building or for a less quantity. The trouble and expense of building a very much lessened by having these articles made separately, so that the carpenters have only to put them in their place in the structure.

This business has now become so well systematized that only a small margin is left in knowing beforehand the cost of a dwelling house, while the work is of a uniform excellent quality.

Any one interested can examine specimens of the work at the factory, near the Rose Place, or at the store of M S. Jackson, on Exchange st, and at either place any article may be obtained or large quantities ordered.

Mr Dunbar is also prepared to furnish Window Blinds ready painted, and will hang them at the shortest notice.

By long experience, and by determined perseverance, the subscriber is now enabled to suit his customers both in quality and prices, and so well organized is the business that no man should now think of building in the old and slow and imperfect methods.

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATIONS

HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED

Compound Fluid Extract Buchu,

IS A CERTAIN, SAFE, AND EFFECTUAL REMEDY

For Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Weakness, Secret Diseases, Obstructions, Female Complaints, and all Diseases of the Sexual Organs, whether in MALE OR FEMALE, from whatever cause they may have originated and

No Matter of How Long Standing.

This popular and specific remedy is now offered to the afflicted, and guaranteed to cure all the above complaints. It searches out the very roots of the diseases driving out all the diseased fluids of the body, thus removing the cause and render ing the cure

Certain and Permanent!

This medicine allays pain and inflammation, which other remedies invariably cause, and can be taken with less trouble and expense to patients. This infallible remedy has saved thousands upon thousands from the hands of

Merciless Quacks,

if not from premature graves. In cases of infection, the Compound Buchu is the only article worthy of the least confidence of the afflicted in performing

SAFE CURES

It contains no narcotic, mercury, or other injurious drug, but is a purely VEGETABLE composition. It is very agreeable to the taste, creates no perceptible odor, and may be taken by persons of either sex without hindrance from business or medical advice, as plain directions for use accompany the medicine. Reader, if you have any of the above complaints, do not neglect them.

Delays are Dangerous

With this medicine you can cure yourself, and thus prevent all exposure.

Truth must and will prevail

This medicine speedily and effectually cures the most virulent form of secret diseases, and eradicates every particle of infectious matter from the patient to a perfect state of Health and Purity. And as a medicine which must benefit everybody, from the simply delicate to the confined and despairing invalid, no equal is to be found, it acting both as a Cure and Preventative of any of the above ailments.

HELMBOLD'S HIGHLY CONCENTRATED

Compound Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla,

—FOR—

Purifying the Blood, removing all diseases arising from Excess of Mercury, exposure and imprudence in life, chronic constitutional disease arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Scald head, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Tetter, Pimples on the Face, and all scaly Eruptions of the skin.

It is gratifying to the proprietor of these medicines to be able to state that it is now nearly three years since they were first introduced, during which time they have been extensively used in the various parts of the United States, and have given satisfaction in the various cases in which they have been employed whether in town, country, hospital, or private practice, they have invariably given to patient and practitioner the highest degree of satisfaction. They are most salutary and beneficial effects. Numerous letters have been received from the most distinguished physicians in the country, and from the professors of several medical colleges, recommending in the highest terms the value of these medicines and their superiority over all other preparations for such complaints as the proprietor recommends. Numerous preparations of Sarsaparilla and Buchu, and various modes of preparing them have been given, all of which of course will differ according to the mode of preparation which each individual may adopt.

These medicines require considerable care in the preparation, and the employment of different menstrua in successive operation to take up the extractive matters, and in consequence are frequently improperly made, and not unfrequently much impaired, if not rendered totally inert, by the injudicious and unskillful management of those unacquainted with pharmaceutical preparations and importance to the public, and to the fact that there should be a standard preparation of uniform strength and possessing the most advantages. To effect this and obviate the evils alluded to, I have made a number of experiments to ascertain the most effectual mode of extracting the virtues of the Sarsaparilla and the Buchu, and to discover the most eligible form for their exhibition. The experiments have resulted most favorably, and it is with much pleasure I now offer to the public and the faculty my Compound Fluid Extracts, which contain all the virtues of the articles they are represented to be made from in a highly concentrated form, and are the most advantageous preparations which can be made. Two table spoonsfuls of the Extract Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Lisbon diet drink, and one bottle fully equals in strength one gallon of Syrup of Sarsaparilla or decoction, as usually made.
